

ABSTRACT

A method for treatment of dependence and dependence related withdrawal symptoms caused by the discontinuation of subacute or chronic use of psychostimulant agents, to ease a patient's withdrawal from the psychostimulants with an alpha2-adrenoceptor antagonist or a pharmaceutically acceptable ester or salt thereof.